iii)	Profit & Loss Mechanisim
	The relationship of the BIIC/BMIC holder and Faysal Bank Limited ("Bank") under its Faysal Islamic banking is that of 'Rabb-ul-Maal' (Owner of the fund) and 'Mudarib' (Manager of the fund). The Bank as the Mudarib may invest or disinvest the funds received from the Customers (through the General or Special Mudaraba Pool) in any Shariah compliant asset. Rate of Profit on deposit is determined through a Shariah approved mechanism for calculation of weightages which is announced 3 working days prior to the start of new Mudaraba period and applicable to the following calendar month. The deposit account holders are entitled to share in the profit earned by the Islamic Banking Branches. Losses are shared in the proportion of investment by each depositor. The Bank will declare the final rate of profit applicable to BIC by the 8th business day of each calendar month. This rate will be used for profit calculation of the preceding calendar month.
a)	Weightages
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Is an absolute number, does not signify anything until compared with other category Weightages. - It simply gives an idea about the difference in the profit rates between these categories. - Weightages are assigned to investment products as per their teirs, tenures etc. - the return on these Investment products are derived from the Weightages assigned to them.

SAVINGS PROFIT CALCULATION

In savings (LCY & FCY) , profit is calculated on customer's monthly average balance.

Expected Profit rate is always quoted on per annum basis.

The formula for calculating profit is:

Profit = (Monthly Average Balance * Declared Profit Rate) / 365 * (Number of days)

Note:

- Please refer to page 23 for product wise profit payment frequencies
- Please refer page 29 for declared profit rate calculation
- Existing SOC charges will be applicable on accounts opened via Branch or Digital
