General Banking

	The relationship of the BIIC/BMIC holder and Faysal Bank Limited (“Bank”) under its Barkat Islamic banking is that of ‘Rabb-ul-Maal’ (Owner of the fund) and ‘Mudarib’ (Manager of the fund). The Bank as the Mudarib may invest or disinvest the funds received from the Customers (through the General or Special Mudaraba Pool) in any Shariah compliant asset. Rate of Profit on deposit is determined through a Shariah approved mechanism for calculation of weightages which is announced 3 working days prior to the start of new Mudaraba period and applicable to the following calendar month. The deposit account holders are entitled to share in the profit earned by the Islamic Banking Branches. Losses are shared in the proportion of investment by each depositor. The Bank will declare the final rate of profit applicable to BIC by the 8th business day of each calendar month. This rate will be used for profit calculation of the preceding calendar month.

14. Premature Encashment of Barkat Investment Certificates

i) Premature encashment of Barkat Islamic Investment Certificate (BIIC)

a) Minimum investment period in BIIC is one (1) month. If this period is not completed, then the profit will be recalculated on the basis of Minimum final rates for Barkat Saving account and will be credited to the customer's Profit & Loss Sharing / Current account.

General Banking

b) If the request for premature encashment is received after completion of one month but before the completion of the agreed term, then profit will be recalculated on the basis of final rates declared every month applicable to the nearest completed term during the period between the date of issue of BIIC and its premature encashment, and will be credited to the customer's Profit & Loss Sharing/Current account.

c) Broken period will be remunerated on the basis of last declared final rate for completed term. This will happen when the date of pre-mature encashment falls on a date preceding the date of profit declaration and profit has to be calculated for the number of days for which the amount remained invested.

ii) Premature encashment of Barkat Monthly Investment Certificate (BMIC)

a) Minimum investment period in BMIC is 3 months. If request of premature encashment is received before the completion of one month, then the profit will be recalculated on the basis of Minimum final rates for Barkat Saving account and will be credited along with the investment amount to the customer's Profit & Loss Sharing / Current account.

If request of premature encashment is received after the completion of one month but before the completion of 3 months, then the profit will be recalculated on the basis of 1 Month (BIIC) and will be credited along with the investment amount to the customer's Profit & Loss Sharing / Current account. Excess profit paid will be recovered from the holder by debiting his/her account or adjustment against the sum invested with Bank.

b) Before the sum invested has completed Ninety (90) days from the date of investment but has completed eighty Nine (89) days, profit will be recalculated at the rate declared on one (1) month BIIC for the last month before the date of encashment. Excess profit paid will be recovered from the holder by debiting his/her account or adjustment against the sum invested with Bank.

c) If all terms as stated in clause (b) remain the same, but the investment has completed one hundred and seventy nine (179) days, profit will be recalculated at the rate declared on three (3) month BMIC for the last month before the date of encashment. Excess profit paid will be recovered from the holder by debit to account or adjustment against the sum invested with Bank.

d) When the investment has completed one hundred and eighty (180) days but has not completed three hundred and sixty five (365) days, profit will be calculated at the rate declared for six (6) month BMIC for the last month before the date of encashment. Excess profit paid will be recovered from the holder by debit to account or adjustment against principal.

General Banking

Note:

In Case of Premature encashment of a Monthly profit payout certificate (BMIC), the excess Gross Profit will be recovered from the customers.

Any differential in withholding tax or other government levies (arising out of Premature encashment of a Monthly profit payout certificate (BMIC)) will not be refunded by the bank.

Premature Encashment - Foreign Currency

iii) Premature encashment of Barkat Islamic Investment Certificate (BIIC)

a) Minimum investment period in Foreign Currency BIIC is three (3) months. If the request for premature encashment is received before completion of three (3) months, then the profit will be recalculated on the basis of Minimum final rates for Foreign Currency saving account and will be credited along with the investment amount to the customer's Profit & Loss Sharing / Current account.

b) If the request for premature encashment is received after completion of three (3) months but before the completion of the agreed term, then the profit will be recalculated on the basis of final rates declared every month applicable to the nearest completed term during the period between the date of issue of BIIC and its premature encashment, and will be credited to the customer's Profit & Loss Sharing/Current account.

c) Broken period will be remunerated on the basis of last declared final rate for completed term. This will happen when the date of premature encashment falls on a date preceding the date of the profit declaration and the profit has to be calculated for the number of days for which the amount remained invested.
